The Black Cloud is a remarkable new temporary structure designed by internationally acclaimed artists Heather and Ivan Morison for Victoria Park, Bedminster, and commissioned by the Situations programme at UWE.

The unusual design has been inspired by architecture from across the world which has been built to withstand extreme environmental conditions and emergencies.

The Black Cloud will be in the park from Saturday 25 July to Sunday 6 December 2009. Acting as a shelter and meeting point, the structure is also open for free for park users, local residents, groups and organisations throughout its six months in the park.

The Shape of Things to Come: Barn-raising the Black Cloud is the first event initiated by the artists, which involves raising the structure in a single day with local volunteers accompanied by music, food and activities for all. Everyone is welcome!
